

Next Level

Is 2024 the year you embrace your leadership potential? Your journey starts here!

Grow your mindset, skills and courage to lead through change and achieve your goals with Next Level, AWDT's six-month leadership and governance programme.

Why choose Next Level?

Designed to empower and inspire, Next Level will help you find and foster your strengths, gain clarity on your direction and break through the barriers that hold you back.

You'll be supported by professional coaches and facilitators who understand rural life and live in your world.

Connect and learn alongside other aspiring female leaders from New Zealand's food and fibre sector and rural communities, gaining the tools and connections to influence and lead into the future.

Next Level is delivered through an innovative mix of face-to-face group modules, online individual learning, individual executive coaching and online facilitated group sessions.
